

And The Winner Is ...

Attendees have a rewarding experience at the AKFCF 2008 Convention.

Quite-a few dreams came true during the 2008 AKFCF Convention in Nashville, Tenn.! Never before have so many valuable prizes been won during the convention events. If you missed the convention, you missed the opportunities to win, so don't miss out next year! Here's a list of the lucky winners:

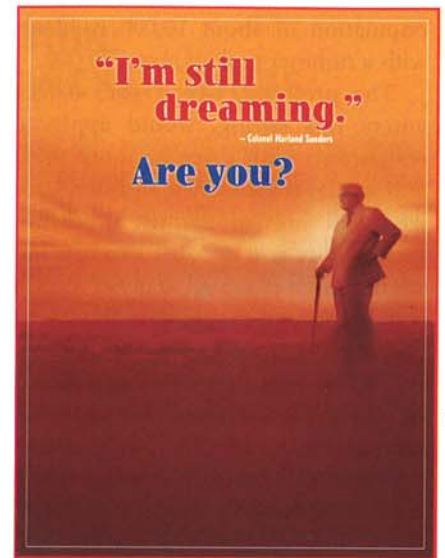

The highest "dollar value" prize of the convention was a brand new car! PrimeSource Foodservice provided franchisees the chance to spin for a new Mini Cooper. Fortunately, Unsil Webb, store manager for Alan & Carol Hurley out of Rensselaer, Ind., brought her husband to the convention. What a good decision; Unsil's husband, Jeff, won the car! Congratulations to Unsil and Jeff!

Another convention winner was Anne Goodnight, franchisee in Lafayette, Ind. Anne attended the Colonel's Scholars fundraising event and won a brilliant-cut diamond valued between $1,800 and $2,200! Congratulations to Anne!

Did you attend the Data Collection and UFPC Resource Services workshops? If not, you missed out on the chance to win a new Dell notebook computer, with all the accessories. A laptop was given out at each of the three sessions for both workshops, and the six winners were Lois Foust of Starkville, Miss.; John Oja of Lake Ozark, Mo.; Mary Jo Childress of West Quality Foods in Laurel, Miss.; Don Herber of Salem, Ore.; and Tom Hirunpugdi of Fulenwider Enterprises. Many thanks to Dell and the AKFCF; each organization donated three Dell laptops!

Everyone who participated in the Search for the Colonel's Star competition during the AKFCF PAC event was a winner – our franchisees are a talented bunch! The official 2008 Colonel's Star is Ashlie Stewart. Ashlie is the 16-year-old daughter of Todd and Jody Stewart, franchisees in Klamath Falls, Ore. Ashlie attends Henry

High School, and she won performing "Angel." Ashlie won a $500 cash prize as well as the opportunity to go backstage to meet and have her picture taken with Martina McBride. Congratulations, Ashlie!
